

Ever heard “but will I use this in the real-world?!”

Well we have something that will make your students say “we need to be doing this in the real world, RIGHT NOW!” This is an opportunity for you to empower the young people in your life with the skills and tools necessary for them to become peacemakers, today.

Peace First is inviting you to be part of the launch of the Peace First Challenge, an international campaign that calls for young people around the world to identify an injustice and develop a solution using a peacemaking lens.

As a founding member of this community of peacemakers, students of Chicago, ages 13-25, will be supported with self-service tools, a supportive community and up to $250 to support their peacemaking projects.

By accepting this invitation

Teachers will receive a 1-2 hour training on a framework tested with young people to help students turn their peacemaking ideas into real projects

The Peace First Challenge will help students fulfill their service learning requirements

Students that are part of the initial launch will have higher chances of receiving mini-grant support their peacemaking projects

Submit your interest by September 23rd to <http://tinyurl.com/PeaceFirstCPSPilot>. Trainings and activities will start by the end of October.

For more information about Peace First, visit www.peacefirst.org or email pfchallenge@peacefirst.org